Dear valued partner,

On behalf of the City of Novi's Economic Development team, thank you for your commitment to our business community, specifically the support provided by your team member, Mona Diegel for our recent #NoviJobFair event.

Our vibrant and diverse culture is evidenced by the many distinctive businesses that dot our City. We are home to more than 3,000 businesses, many of whom recently requested assistance in the area of employee recruitment. Hence, the launch of #NoviJobFair, which took place on April 24th here at the Novi Civic Center. From the implementation phase, which began last October through execution of the event, Mona's eagerness to partner with us to ensure that both our businesses and job seekers would prosper as a result of the event was above and beyond the call of duty. She helped us plan for the most value added event possible by providing constructive input as it related to logistics, identifying job seekers, and proposing the most effective communications outlets just to name a few of the many tasks that she took on.

More than 100 job seekers attended #NoviJobFair, which is double our forecasted attendance for the inaugural event. Throughout the event, job seekers lined up to speak with Mona and were not hesitant in providing feedback that they found her conversation, as well as the tools that she had on hand to be informative of all the great opportunities and resources available through Michigan Works.

Again, thank you for affording us the opportunity to benefit from Mona's expertise! We are excited and feel fortunate to have worked with her, and if there is anything further you might need from us as it relates to our work experience with her, please do not hesitate to contact us directly.

Sincerely,

Wenona Graham
